

5th battery and energy storage conference

Overview

What is the 5th Battery and energy storage Conference?

The 5 th Battery and Energy Storage Conference is a premier event that seeks to engage scientists, engineers, and policy makers working in the fields of energy storage and conversion technologies. Argonne National Laboratory is proud to host this year's conference organized by the American Institute of Chemical Engineers (AIChE).

What is a battery and energy storage Conference?

Topics include Transportation Electrification, Grid-Scale Energy Storage, Manufacturing & Recycling, and the Future of Energy. The 5 th Battery and Energy Storage Conference is a premier event that seeks to engage scientists, engineers, and policy makers working in the fields of energy storage and conversion technologies.

What is the Argonne energy conference?

Argonne hosts this year's conference organized by the American Institute of Chemical Engineers (AIChE). Topics include Transportation Electrification, Grid-Scale Energy Storage, Manufacturing & Recycling, and the Future of Energy.

How can a battery recycling program improve safety and cycleability?

Focus on new materials and concepts to decrease cost and improve safety and cycleability. This area includes closed-loop manufacturing, sustainable recycling of battery production scrap, and new material concepts that are designed to be recyclable.
