

Fishpond Solar Power Generation Scam

Overview

Are solar panels a scam?

That is, of course, also a scam. To protect yourself from clean energy scams: Know that “free” or “no cost” solar panel offers are scams. The federal government does not install solar systems in homes for free. If you’re considering whether solar energy is right for you, check out the Department of Energy’s guide for homeowners and learn more.

Are rooftop solar panels a scam?

While rooftop solar panels are becoming increasingly ubiquitous in homes throughout the United States, the industry also has a more sinister side: a seemingly widespread problem of fraudulent business practices that has cast a shadow over many solar panel companies.

Are solar energy companies scamming consumers?

As solar energy has boomed over the years, some companies "have preyed on consumers by offering predatory and costly loans," and many of them "are engaging in overly aggressive sales tactics or are outright scamming consumers," said CNET.

How do you know if a solar system is a scam?

Ask for a list of satisfied customers and look at customer reviews online. Know that the government won’t offer you free solar. The federal government does not install residential solar panels for free; if someone is claiming otherwise, it’s probably a scam. If it seems too good to be true, it probably is.

Are changes to our energy bills a scam?

Changes to our energy bills offer a prime opportunity for scammers to sow confusion – and this year is no different. In July, the government announced plans to scrap the winter fuel payment for millions of pensioners not claiming means-tested benefits.

Is solar panel fraud a global issue?

And while the aforementioned data focuses on the United States, solar panel fraud is a global issue. It is especially prevalent in Canada, where in the city of Calgary alone, the amount of applications for rooftop solar panels "has increased by nearly 600% since 2020," said the CBC.
