

Has the country banned photovoltaic panels now

Overview

The country's rightwing coalition on Monday approved a ban on photovoltaic systems with modules placed on the ground in areas classified as agricultural land. Why did Italy ban solar panels on agricultural land?

Image: Enel Green Power. The Italian government has banned solar PV installations on agricultural land, in a move that the nation's solar trade association said would cost Italy €60 billion (US$64.5 billion). The government rules constitute a complete ban on ground-mounted solar PV projects on land classed as agricultural.

Will photovoltaic systems be banned in Italy?

According to Italy's minister of agriculture, food sovereignty and forestry, Francesco Lollobrigida, the ban will focus on photovoltaic systems placed on the ground in areas classified as agricultural.

Will Italy ban ground-mounted solar PV projects on agricultural land?

The government rules constitute a complete ban on ground-mounted solar PV projects on land classed as agricultural. The policy is intended to preserve Italy's productive agricultural land and "put an end to the wild installation of ground-mounted photovoltaics," according to agriculture minister Francesco Lollobrigida.

Will a ban on ground-mounted solar panels stop a photovoltaic plant?

Energy Minister Gilberto Pichetto Fratin said the ban on ground-mounted panels on agricultural land would not stop the government installing some 38 GW through photovoltaic plants by that date. Monday's ban is part of a draft law that must be approved by parliament and may be modified before that. ide/bc.

Will agrivoltaic projects be banned?

However, the decree will not prevent agrivoltaic projects where solar panels are installed above fields of crops without interfering with productivity. Solar plants on non-productive agricultural land such as quarries and solar facilities financed under the recovery and resilience plan framework will also be exempt from the ban. Have you read?
