Overview

What is a battery energy storage system (BESS)?

Battery Energy Storage Systems (BESS) are pivotal technologies for sustainable and efficient energy solutions.

What is a battery energy storage system?

A battery energy storage system (BESS) is an electrochemical device that charges (or collects energy) from the grid or a power plant and then discharges that energy at a later time to provide electricity or other grid services when needed.

What are the customer requirements for a battery energy storage system?

Any customer obligations required for the battery energy storage system to be installed/operated such as maintaining an internet connection for remote monitoring of system performance or ensuring unobstructed access to the battery energy storage system for emergency situations. A copy of the product brochure/data sheet.

How should battery energy storage system specifications be based on technical specifications?

Battery energy storage system specifications should be based on technical specification as stated in the manufacturer documentation. Compare site energy generation (if applicable), and energy usage patterns to show the impact of the battery energy storage system on customer energy usage. The impact may include but is not limited to:

What is rated energy storage capacity?

Rated Energy Storage Capacity is the total amount of stored energy in kilowatt-hours (KWh) or megawatt-hours (MWh). Capacity expressed in ampere-hours (100Ah@12V for example). The amount of time storage can discharge at its power capacity before exhausting its battery energy storage capacity.

What should a battery energy storage system Quote include?

Quotation should include a copy of the battery energy storage system manufacturer warranty T&Cs which should contain manufacturer and/or Australian importer contact details for warranty claims.
