How do I choose a solar light for my Garden?

Think about what tone of lighting you want in the garden as well. Most solar lights use LED bulbs which project a white light. Some may find this too harsh, especially if it's lighting where you plan to entertain guests! If you want a warm or soft tone, invest in solar lights with tinted covers.

How to choose solar lights?

Don't forget about what the solar lights will look like during the daytime as well. You don't want them to look too cluttered or obtrusive. Some come with stainless steel casing to give a more premium appeal, while others have glass lampshades. Some can also be concealed easily as well, but make sure they're not a tripping hazard.

Which solar lights are the best?

Solar flood lights are great options for lighting large areas and can also be used to highlight plantings around your home. Solar spotlights are some of the brightest solar lights on the market and are ideal for work areas and security.

Where should solar lights be placed?

It's best to place your lights in an area that isn't shaded by trees, walls or even certain roofs, as these can obstruct the amount of light the solar panels receive. And while solar lights do still work on dark, cloudy days, the charge probably won't last as long.

Do solar lights require a battery?

Solar lights require a battery to store the energy collected by the solar panel during the day. The battery provides electricity to the light during the night when the solar panel is not charging. How long do solar lights usually last?
