How many lithium-ion battery companies are there in North America?

As of March 2024, the database now offers a directory of nearly 700 companies and 850 facilities in North America across lithium-ion battery supply chain segments, including mining, material processing, cell and pack manufacturing, research and development, services, end-of-life management, and product distributors.

Which country has the largest lithium-ion battery market?

The United States is the largest country market for the Lithium-ion Battery Market in the North American region, however, Canada is expected to witness considerable growth in the coming years. The lithium-ion battery market revenue in the United States was valued at USD 11.2 billion in 2023.

Why are lithium-ion batteries so popular in the United States?

The region also remains one of the largest consumers of batteries, i.e., both primary and secondary battery types, owing to increased electric vehicle deployment, spending on consumer electronics, and consumer and manufacturing activities. The United States has a well-established manufacturing infrastructure for lithium-ion batteries.

How is the North American lithium-ion battery market segmented?

The North American lithium-ion battery market is segmented by application and geography (US, Canada, and Rest of North America). The market is segmented by application into Consumer Electronics, Automotive, Energy Storage (UPS, Renewables, and Industrial), and Other Applications (Power Tools, Defense, Medical Devices, etc.).

Where is Panasonic's new lithium-ion battery manufacturing facility located?

Panasonic Energy Co., Ltd., a Panasonic Group company, today announced senior leadership for its new lithium-ion battery manufacturing facility in De Soto, Kansas.

Who are the key players in the North American lithium-ion battery market?

The North American lithium-ion battery market is moderately fragmented. Some of the key players in the market (in no particular order) include Tesla Inc., LG Chem Ltd, Panasonic Corporation, Duracell Inc., and Samsung SDI Co. Ltd, among others. Need More Details on Market Players and Competitors?
