Overview

The biggest financial and environmental benefits are achieved when the power generated by your solar panels is used in your home. This is because the amount you are charged for each unit of electricity is significantly more than the amount you will be paid for exporting power. This video from the Fully Charged Show.

If you're unlikely to use all the electrical power generated during the summer, then you can use the excess energy to heat your hot water. This switch acts like an immersion heater in your.

Some people believe solar panels only generate electricity when it is sunny, or that solar panels don't work in colder climates. We are happy to bust both myths – as neither is true! Once you have panels installed in your home you.

Absolutely. The only limitation is roof space, but most homes would have enough. Each system requires about an area of about 4m<sup>2</sup>, so most homes could accommodate both solar.
