How to Calculate the Size of Your Home Backup Battery

To do this, add up the power consumption of all critical loads that require backup power, and multiply this by the number of hours you need the backup power to last. For example, if your critical loads require 2,000 watts of power and you need backup power for 24 hours, your total load would be 48,000 watt-hours (2,000 watts x 24 hours).
