

Remote computer backup power supply

Overview

Do you need an uninterruptible power supply (UPS)?

If you have important electronics that have to keep running when the power's out, you'll need an uninterruptible power supply (UPS). We've reviewed our recommendations and are confident these are still the best UPS devices you can buy. Many smart devices have built-in battery packs, with modern laptops packing enough cells to last a whole day.

Why do I need a battery backup?

In order to protect your computer against power supply interruptions, you need a battery backup. UPS units are like power strips that contain a big battery inside, providing a buffer against power supply interruptions. This buffer can range from a few minutes to an hour or more depending on the size of the unit.

Why should you buy a UPS battery backup?

Whether that's a blackout, brownout, or power surge, the best UPS battery backup will give you the time to save what you're doing and turn off your machine safely. Power surges and interruptions can be bad news for PC components, so what you're buying is peace of mind more than anything else.

What is a ups & how does it work?

What is a UPS?

UPS stands for uninterruptible power supply, it's a device that acts as a battery backup in case of an electrical power failure. Small UPS machines for homes and offices supply enough power for a few minutes, so there's time to turn off devices properly without losing any work.

What is an uninterruptible power supply?

Read more about our editorial standards. An uninterruptible power supply, or UPS, is basically a surge protector, battery, and power inverter—which turns the battery’s stored energy into usable power—wrapped into one unit.

Is the APC ups be425m a good battery backup?

If you need a UPS and don't want to spend a lot, the APC UPS BE425M Battery Backup is for you. Its 425VA/225W power won't keep your desktop computer running for several minutes after a blackout, but it's perfect if you have a few smaller devices you need to keep powered up.
