Overview

What is cable-supported photovoltaic (PV)?

Cable-supported photovoltaic (PV) modules have been proposed to replace traditional beam-supported PV modules. The new system uses suspension cables to bear the loads of the PV modules and therefore has the characteristics of a long span, light weight, strong load capacity, and adaptability to complex terrains.

What is a supporting cable structure for PV modules?

Czaloun (2018) proposed a supporting cable structure for PV modules, which reduces the foundation to only four columns and four fundamentals. These systems have the advantages of light weight, strong bearing capacity, large span, low cost, less steel consumption and applicability to complex terrain.

What are the characteristics of a cable-supported photovoltaic system?

Long span, light weight, strong load capacity, and adaptability to complex terrains. The nonlinear stiffness of the new cable-supported photovoltaic system is revealed. The failure mode of the new structure is discussed in detail. Dynamic characteristics and bearing capacity of the new structure are investigated.

What is a PV support structure?

Support structures are the foundation of PV modules and directly affect the operational safety and construction investment of PV power plants. A good PV support structure can significantly reduce construction and maintenance costs. In addition, PV modules are susceptible to turbulence and wind gusts, so wind load is the control load of PV modules.

Can a cable-supported PV system reduce vertical displacement?

Recently, the authors (He et al., 2020) proposed a new cable-supported PV system using three cables and four triangle brackets to form an inverted arch to reduce the vertical displacement of the PV modules.

How does a cable-supported PV system change structural parameters?

Parametric analyses The new cable-supported PV system often changes structural parameters to adapt to different geographic environments, such as changing the row spacing to obtain different amounts of daylight or enlarging the cable diameter to enhance the bearing capacity of the structure.
