

Solar power is a scam

Overview

Door-to-door sales are innately pushy, and an aggressive salesperson is always a bad sign in business. Door-to-door salespeople are usually trying to make a quick buck and may rush along your decision-making process by making elaborate promises. In the world of solar panels, this may look like a person pressuring you.

Whether it's door-to-door or online, a forceful salesperson might inform you that a certain deal, like a financing rate or an incentive program, will.

There is plenty of diversity in the world of solar panels, with ample brands to choose from based on your needs, your price range and the architecture of your home. If a solar panel installation company offers you products from only a.

We've all been sent scammy emails and they'll slip through because it looks much more official than it is. Steer clear of any emails, social media posts or pop-ups that boast unlikely amenities.

Many solar panel companies will claim to potential customers that the federal solar tax credit will soon be eradicated. As a matter of fact, the federal solar tax credit currently sits at 30% and.
