Overview

Can solar power projects be sold to Vietnam Electricity?

Solar power projects – both utility-scale and rooftop – that started operation prior to 30 June 2019 are able to sell their electricity to the state-owned Vietnam Electricity and its subsidiaries at a FIT of US$93.5/MWh for 20 years.

Does Vietnam have a solar energy boom?

His research focuses on the economics of energy, transport and the environment. Vietnam has recently seen a remarkable solar photovoltaic (PV) boom, the first stage of a major and rapid energy transition in the country. The country's solar PV capacity increased from only 86 MW in 2018 to 4,750 MW in 2019 (Figure 1).

Is solar power a good option for Vietnam?

Solar power is an increasingly attractive electricity generating option for Vietnam thanks to recent cost reductions, fast construction, and the contribution solar power can make to ensuring energy security and environmental sustainability.

How much solar power will Vietnam have in 2025?

Under the plan, the total installed capacity is expected to be 60 GW in 2020, 96 GW in 2025, and 130 GW in 2030. Vietnam's solar potential is illustrated in figure 1.1. Revised PDP 7 places greater emphasis than the previous PDP on renewable energy development.

Is solar the future of electricity in Vietnam?

With a rapidly expanding economy—now the fastest growing in southeast Asia—Vietnam has developed a large appetite for energy to fuel their surging growth. As such, the country's largest generator and distributor of electricity, Vietnam Electricity (EVN), is increasingly turning to solar to leverage its modularity and scalability benefits.

How much does solar PV cost in Vietnam?

These FITs are generous. Lee et al. (2019) estimated that the average levelised cost of electricity (LCOE) for solar PV in Vietnam – when excluding protected areas, water bodies, forested areas, agricultural areas, urban areas, and areas with a slope greater than 5% – was around US$87.5/MWh in 2018.
